

Koala News

Week of November 16th

Our theme this week centered around the fall season. The Koalas enjoyed exploring and building with “loose parts” - wood circles with engraved letters, shells, pinecones and sticks on pretend grass. It was fun to see how creative they could be! The children also had fun painting in a new way - rolling an acorn dipped in fall colors from side to side and watching it spread color across the paper.

We continue to enjoy our outside group time and play, despite the chilly weather. Thank you for sending in snow pants, hats, mittens and boots in case we need them. Your children are doing a great job learning how to put on their winter clothes. We encourage independence but are always available to help.

As we explored the Fall theme we learned 2 finger plays, one about an acorn and another about the “Falling” leaves. We also enjoyed listening to the rhyming book Over in the Meadow. In addition, we learned some new yoga poses, Triangle, Tree, Forward Fold. The children are loving the yoga stretches.

We also would like to welcome Evan, a new Koala student and his family to the TCW Community.
